A Message From President

I am pleased to share the November 2025 Activities Report, reflecting yet another month of meaningful progress, impactful initiatives, and inspiring experiences across all our programs at Mahesh Foundation. Our Utkarsha School continued to promote holistic and experiential learning through a wide range of academic, cultural, and skill-based activities. From celebrating Karnataka Rajyotsava and Kanakadasa Jayanti to exploring nature, dairy farming, creative arts, and vocational skills through the Skill on Wheels workshop, our children experienced joyful learning that strengthened their curiosity, confidence, and connection to culture. These thoughtfully designed activities reaffirm our commitment to nurturing well-rounded individuals equipped with knowledge, values, and real-world exposure.

At Ashakiran Care Home, our focus on child development and well-being remained strong through cognitive games, leadership-focused meetings, monthly health checkups, and engaging celebrations like Children's Day and Kannada Rajyotsava. These efforts continue to ensure that every child receives the emotional, physical, and educational support they deserve in a safe and supportive environment. Meanwhile, the MyBlood Charitable Blood Bank conducted a successful Blood Donation Camp in partnership with Jain Degree College, receiving overwhelming support from donors whose compassion and generosity continue to save precious lives.

This month also marked several insightful visits and collaborative engagements. Students from AMBIT, Lingaraj College, and SSS Samithi's College, along with members of SKDRDP Raibag, visited our campus to understand our initiatives and contribute to social causes. The Entrepreneurship Development Training Program empowered youth with essential skills, and we were honored to host Senior Civil Judge Sandeep Patil, whose encouraging words strengthened our mission. These interactions serve as powerful reminders of the collective effort needed to create lasting social impact.

As we close the month, I extend my heartfelt gratitude to our team, donors, partners, volunteers, and well-wishers whose unwavering support enables us to continue transforming lives. Together, we are building a stronger, more inclusive future for thousands of underprivileged children and families. I look forward to carrying this momentum forward in the months ahead.

With warm regards,

Education

Utkarsha School

Mahesh Foundation's Utkarsha School continues to foster holistic learning by organizing diverse and meaningful activities that nurture children's creativity, cultural understanding, practical knowledge, and social awareness. Students celebrated Karnataka Rajyotsava and Kanakadasa Jayanti with pride and devotion, gaining a deeper appreciation for the state's rich heritage and values. Through these cultural celebrations, children learned the importance of unity, language, and tradition, helping them stay connected to their roots while developing respect for diverse cultures.

Alongside cultural events, the school offered several hands-on learning experiences that sparked curiosity and imagination among the students. Activities such as "Totadalli Ondu Dina," the 'Making Figures' creative session, and the engaging No Bag Day allowed children to explore new ideas and express themselves freely. Visits to the Honga plant nurseries and an educational dairy farming session provided real-world exposure, helping students understand nature, sustainability, and community life. These experiences strengthened problem-solving skills, teamwork, and observation among the young learners.

Further enriching the learning environment, the Skill on Wheels workshop by the Pink Samosa Foundation introduced students to practical vocational skills in a fun and interactive format. The Children's Day and World Adoption Month celebration, graced by esteemed dignitaries, inspired students with messages on child rights and protection. Through these thoughtful initiatives, Utkarsha School continues to create a joyful, supportive, and empowering space where children learn, grow, and build confidence to shape a brighter future.
