Impact

A 13-year-old boy named Murgesh Bannigolmath is infected with HIV. His parents also had the same disease, and sadly, his father passed away because of it. Murgesh's mother was also sick and couldn't take care of him properly due to her health condition. Murgesh needed medication, nutritious food, and a good diet to stay healthy, but his mother couldn't provide all that.

To help him, Murgesh's mother enrolled him in a place called Mahesh Foundation's Ashakiran care home. At the care home, they took good care of him, providing shelter, education, and nutritious food to improve his health. Many other children like Murgesh, who also had HIV, came to the care home for help. Managing the needs of all these children and ensuring they got nutritious food became a challenge.

Thankfully, Feeding India stepped in to help. They provided essential nutritional food to the children at the care home. This support helped hundreds of kids, including Murgesh, to get balanced meals and fight malnutrition and hunger. Feeding India's support also benefited other children studying at the Utkarsha Learning Center through a community program. With Feeding India's continued support, the Mahesh Foundation hopes to help even more children in the future.

Impact

A 10-year-old girl named Sakshi who lived in a small village called Maanebelakudi in Taluka Raibag. She was from an underprivileged family and had HIV. Sadly, both her parents were also sick and passed away, leaving her all alone. She went to live with her uncle, but he found it difficult to take care of her because of her serious illness. So, he decided to enroll her in an orphanage located in Raibag Taluka.

Sakshi couldn't take care of herself, and she had trouble following her medicines and eating properly. Fortunately, someone from an NGO helped her get enrolled in the Mahesh Foundation. Today, Sakshi is staying at Mahesh Foundation's Ashakiran care home, where they take care of all her needs, and provide her with a place to stay, nutritious food, and support for her education. This has helped her improve her physical and mental health, and she now dreams of becoming a doctor.

At the care home, there are many other children like Sakshi who also had HIV and needed help. It was challenging to manage the needs of all these children and make sure they got enough nutritious food.

Thankfully, Feeding India came to help. They provided essential nutritious food to all the children at the care home. This support has helped hundreds of kids, including Sakshi, to get healthy meals and fight malnutrition and hunger. Feeding India's support has also benefited other children studying at the Utkarsha Learning Center through a community program. With Feeding India's ongoing support, the Mahesh Foundation hopes to help even more children in the future.

We express our heartfelt gratitude to Feeding India for their invaluable support in providing meals to medically challenged and underprivileged children. Our association with Feeding India brings us joy and we deeply appreciate their assistance in feeding these children. Thank you once again, Feeding India, for standing by us.

Number of beneficiaries getting support through the Daily Feeding Program 1500+

Utkarsha Learning Center fosters interest in learning by incorporating skill-based education alongside academics. The children are excited to learn printing skills, such as on mugs, plates, and T-shirts. These valuable skills can become future career options, empowering them to be self-sustained.

At Utkarsha Learning Center's No Bag Day, growing children showcase their presentation skills through fun actions. We believe in guiding them to become good learners and fostering their creativity. No Bag Day provides underprivileged children with a platform to explore and express their ideas clearly.

The students at Utkarsha School had their first Formative Assessment Test, and they were very eager and did well in it. We strongly believe in providing a well-rounded education that focuses on developing their overall skills and creativity. We are excited to see how they will grow and progress in the days to come.

The students of Utkarsha, celebrated Kargil Diwas with great enthusiasm and patriotism. Kargil Diwas, observed on July 26th every year, honors the valor and sacrifice of the Indian armed forces during the Kargil War in 1999. To showcase their respect and gratitude towards the armed forces, the students organized a series of cultural activities and performances.

The celebration of Kargil Diwas at Utkarsha was not only a platform for cultural expressions but also an opportunity for the students to learn about the sacrifices made by the armed forces and the importance of national security.
