MONTHLY ACTIVITIES REPORT

April 2025

A Message From President

April has been a month of extraordinary progress and heartfelt celebrations across all our initiatives at Mahesh Foundation. The academic excellence displayed by the students of Utkarsha School in their final examinations stands as a proud reflection of our mission—to empower underprivileged children through quality education.

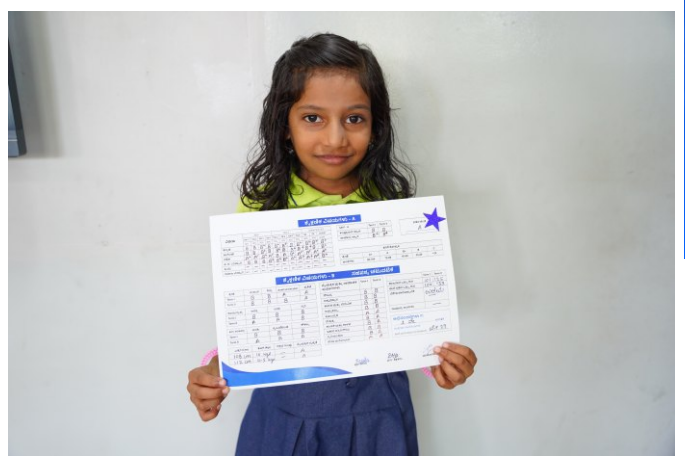

Their remarkable performance, despite difficult circumstances, reinforces our belief that every child, when given the right opportunity and environment, can thrive. Alongside academics, vibrant activities like the Art & Craft Examination, Thumbprint Tree activity, and the celebration of Ambedkar Jayanti enriched the students' learning experiences and nurtured their creativity and values.

At our Care Home, holistic development remained at the forefront through engaging initiatives such as Group Discussion Circles, Children's Committee Assemblies, and interactive learning sessions. Regular health check-ups and personal counselling ensured the well-being of each child, while cultural events like Basava Jayanti helped instill strong ethical foundations.

Our MyBlood Charitable Blood Bank continued its life-saving mission with the successful blood donation camp in partnership with KLS GIT. These collective efforts—from classrooms to health camps—underscore our unwavering commitment to creating a brighter, more inclusive future for every child in our care. I extend my heartfelt gratitude to our dedicated staff, volunteers, supporters, and partners who make this journey possible.

Warm regards,

Mahesh Jadhav

Health

Care Home

At Mahesh Foundation, a variety of educational and developmental activities were conducted to nurture the holistic growth of children. Through initiatives like the Group Discussion Circle and Children's Committee Assembly, children were encouraged to express their thoughts, engage in respectful dialogue, and participate in decision-making processes—fostering leadership, confidence, and communication skills. Sessions like the Number Game Challenge and Learning Through Shapes and Shades of Fruits blended fun with learning, enhancing cognitive development, mathematical reasoning, and awareness about nutrition through interactive and competitive formats.

Creative and recreational outlets were equally emphasized to promote emotional well-being and skill-building. The Artistic Expression Time and Indoor Bowling sessions offered children opportunities to explore creativity, improve motor skills, and enjoy physical play in a structured and supportive environment. The Colours of Joy colouring session provided a calming, expressive space, while also helping caregivers assess each child's focus and artistic inclination. Regular activities like these ensure a joyful balance between learning and play, which is key to well-rounded development.

To support mental and physical health, monthly health check-ups were conducted by medical professionals, monitoring growth and identifying early signs of health concerns. Additionally, individual counselling sessions by Anjeli Ma'am addressed emotional and psychological needs, creating a safe space for children to express themselves and build resilience. A monthly staff review meeting helped align team efforts and strategize future programs. The month concluded on a culturally enriching note with the celebration of Basava Jayanti, where children learned about the values of equality, compassion, and social justice—reflecting the foundation's commitment to empowering children through education, care, and cultural awareness.
